

Everyone Else • 09/39 • Fizza

Every Answer Was a Verse. Fizza served Sayyida Fatima's house, and is remembered for answering only in the words of the Qur'an. Five items, no event print, dateless.

One style for the whole line — Fraunces and Nunito Sans, cut paper, the person on a stamp. Still open where it shows: the fact panel is TO VERIFY and the return address is not set.

ENVELOPE — C5, 229 × 162 MM

NOOR POST · EVERYONE ELSE

Fizza served Sayyida Fatima's house, and is remembered for answering only in the words of the Qur'an.

FOR

[Child's name]

FIZZA

FIRST EDITION · 09/39

INSIDE THE FLAP

EVERYONE ELSE • FIZZA •
INSIDE THE FLAP

Open together.

● is the grown-up. ○ is you.

- 1 The letter — read it out loud, ● and ○ taking turns
- 2 The hadith card
- 3 The print
- 4 The stickers
- 5 The postcard

1 · THE LETTER — ONE A4 SHEET FOLDED TO A5

Fizza

- Her place in the household. Served in the house of Sayyida Fatima — not family by birth, but close to the daily life of it in a way few outside the family were.
- What she is remembered for. Traditionally told: for about twenty years, she is said to have answered every question put to her only in the words of the Qur'an, never her own.
- What is not known. How she managed it, or why she chose it. The accounts carry the fact of the practice, not an explanation for it.
- Why it has lasted. An unusual, specific, testable-sounding claim about someone otherwise undocumented — which is exactly the kind of detail that survives in memory even without a written record from the time.
- Why she is in this envelope. Fizza served Sayyida Fatima's house, and is remembered for answering only in the words of the Qur'an.

What is known of her life afterward is not well recorded.

Every Answer Was a Verse

● is the grown-up · ○ is you · ●○ is together

- In the house of Sayyida Fatima, there was a woman who worked there named Fizza. She helped run the whole household — the ordinary daily work of it, the kind that never really stops.

○ Did she belong to the family?

- Not by birth. She served in the house, which in that particular household meant she was close to everything that happened in it, every single day, in a way very few people outside the family itself ever were.

○ What was special about her?

- The way she is remembered is for how she talked.

○ How?

- Ask her anything, the story goes — a simple question, a hard one, it didn't matter — and for twenty years she answered only in lines from the Qur'an, never her own words, always a verse that happened to fit what was asked.

○ Twenty years? Every single answer?

EVERY ANSWER WAS A VERSE - CONTINUED

- That is the story exactly as it is told, and it has been loved and retold for a very long time. We do not have it written down from when it happened, so we tell you plainly: this part is loved, not documented. Both can still be true.

- How would that even work? What if someone asked what was for dinner?

- Nobody explains that part, which is exactly why the story has lasted this long — it is strange enough that people keep retelling it, generation after generation, trying to picture how she actually managed it day to day.

- Why would she even do that?

- The accounts don't say why, only that she kept doing it, for that long, in that house, close to a family whose own speech people wrote down carefully and kept for a thousand years afterward, word by word.

- Could you speak only in someone else's words? Try one sentence, out loud.

- However that just went for you, you'll have felt exactly how hard the discipline in this story actually is — not the cleverness of it. The discipline.

SAY THIS ONE TOGETHER

•◦

Twenty years, and every single answer already written down
somewhere else first.

Then the hadith card.

FIRST EDITION · 09/39

NO SAYING SELECTED

Blocked on a source — nothing prints here until its row on citation-sheet.md reads V

NOT A SILSILA SEGMENT · THIS SET HAS ITS OWN CHAIN

NOOR POST · EVERYONE ELSE

The other chain

The box holds fourteen cards, one for each of the Fourteen.
This set is the people around them: thirty-nine cards, collected in any order.

First edition · thirty-nine cards

Blocked: No credited edition of her sayings is held. Searched all 32,531 Thaqalayn records and every fixed edition: two passages read as her speaking, both inside al-Kafi narrator chains, neither a conduct maxim. Same blocker as box card 06.

Back — its own chain, no silsila number

Fizza

We opened this one together.

- _____
- _____

Post it back to us, or keep it. Either is right.

STAMP

Noor Post

[Return address — not set]
