

Everyone Else • 39/39 • Khawla bint al-Azwar

The Rider Nobody Recognized. Khawla rode into battle in disguise to reach her captured brother, and the army never realized who had actually broken their line. Five items, no event print, dateless.

One style for the whole line — Fraunces and Nunito Sans, cut paper, the person on a stamp. Still open where it shows: the fact panel is TO VERIFY and the return address is not set.

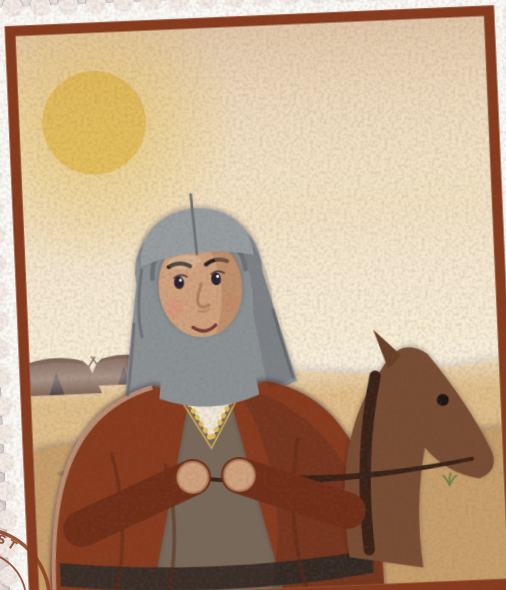

ENVELOPE — C5, 229 × 162 MM

NOOR POST · EVERYONE ELSE

Khawla rode into battle in disguise to reach her captured brother, and the army never realized who had actually broken their line.

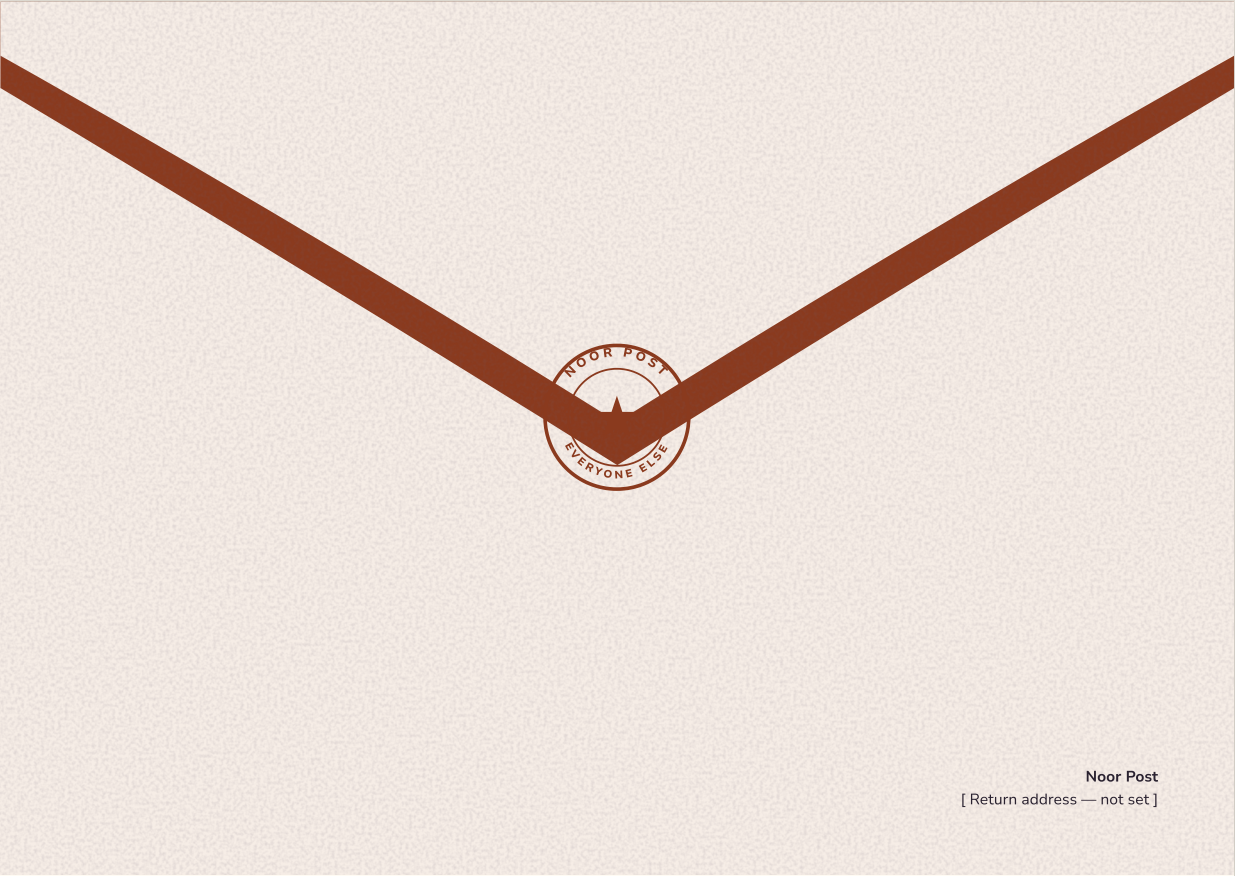

FOR

[Child's name]

KHAWLA BINT AL-AZWAR

FIRST EDITION · 39/39

INSIDE THE FLAP

EVERYONE ELSE ·
KHAWLA BINT AL-AZWAR
· INSIDE THE FLAP

Open together.

● is the grown-up. ○ is you.

- 1 The letter — read it out loud, ● and ○ taking turns
- 2 The hadith card
- 3 The print
- 4 The stickers
- 5 The postcard

FACT PANEL

Khawla bint al-Azwar

- Her situation. Her brother was captured during a battle in the period following the Prophet's death, in the early conquests.
- What she did. Armed and disguised herself, rode into the fighting alone, and reached the area where captives were held.
- What she accomplished. Freed her brother without her identity being discovered during the action itself.
- How it is remembered. As one of the notable episodes of that period, though the specific details are recorded with more variation across accounts than most entries in this line.
- Why she is in this envelope. Khawla rode into battle in disguise to reach her captured brother, and the army never realized who had actually broken their line.

Later accounts describe her continued involvement in the campaigns of that period.

UNVERIFIED TO VERIFY

EVERYONE ELSE · KHAWLA BINT AL-AZWAR

The Rider Nobody Recognized

● is the grown-up · ○ is you · ●○ is together

- During a battle in the years after the Prophet, word reached the camp that Khawla's brother had been captured, taken by the opposing side, and was being held away from the main fighting.

○ What did she do when she heard that?

- She armed herself fully, covered her face the way any soldier riding out that day might, and went out into the battle alone, without waiting for anyone's permission first.

○ Was that allowed, a woman riding out like that?

- It was not the ordinary custom, no — which is exactly why nobody riding past her that morning had any reason to look twice.

○ Did nobody recognize her riding past them?

- Nobody at all. She rode and fought exactly as though she were simply another soldier among many, and pushed steadily toward where the captives were being held that day.

○ Did she actually reach her brother in the end?

THE RIDER NOBODY RECOGNIZED • CONTINUED

- She did, and freed him there, still without anyone in either army realizing that the rider who had done it was a woman who had ridden out from her own tent that same morning.

- Did people find out afterward who it had really been?

- Eventually, yes — and it became one of the stories told about that day, though accounts of exactly what happened vary a good deal depending on who is telling it.

- Would you ride into danger for someone? Say what would stop you, out loud.

- Most people never actually have to find out the answer to that. Khawla rode out before she could talk herself into turning back.

SAY THIS ONE TOGETHER

•◦

Nobody recognized the rider, and the rider never once stopped to be recognized.

Then the hadith card.

FIRST EDITION · 39/39

NO SAYING SELECTED

Blocked on a decision — this entry points to no
Masoom and awaits a scholar call

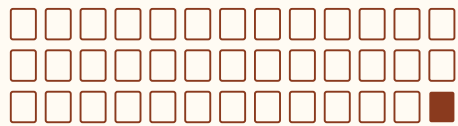

NOT A SILSILA SEGMENT · THIS SET HAS ITS OWN CHAIN

NOOR POST · EVERYONE ELSE

The other chain

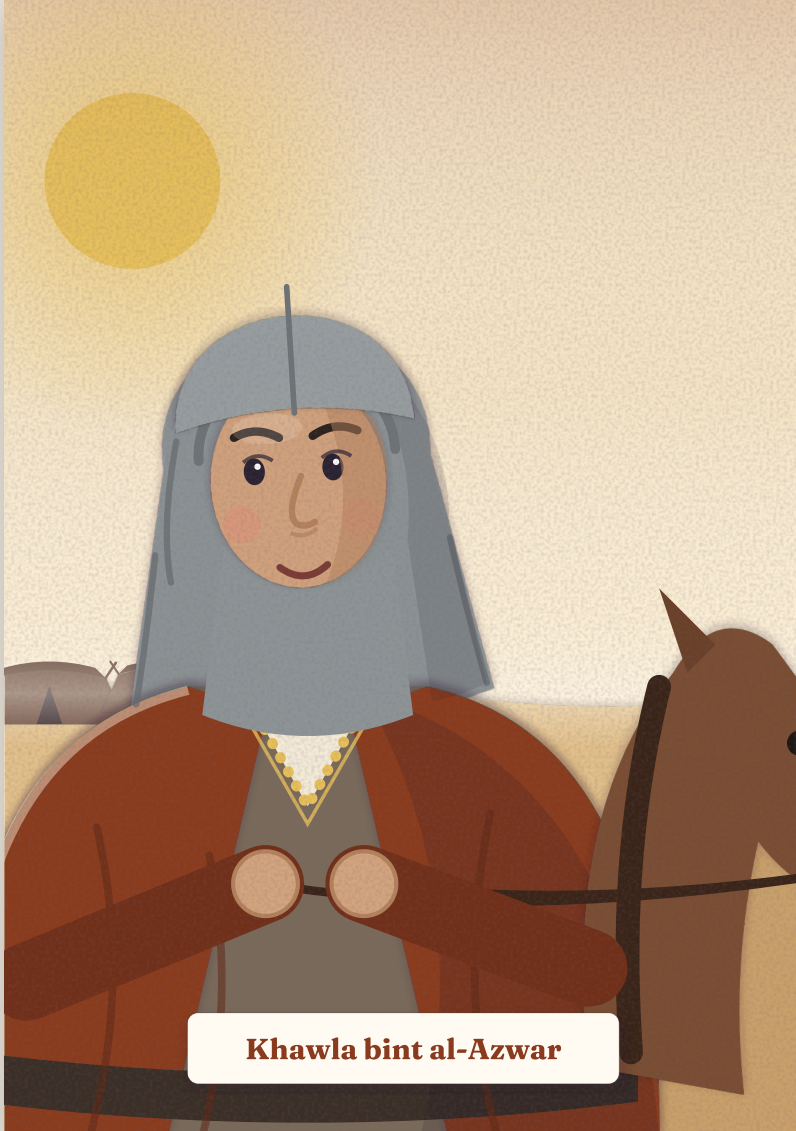

The box holds fourteen cards, one for each of the Fourteen.
This set is the people around them: thirty-nine cards, collected in any order.

First edition · thirty-nine cards

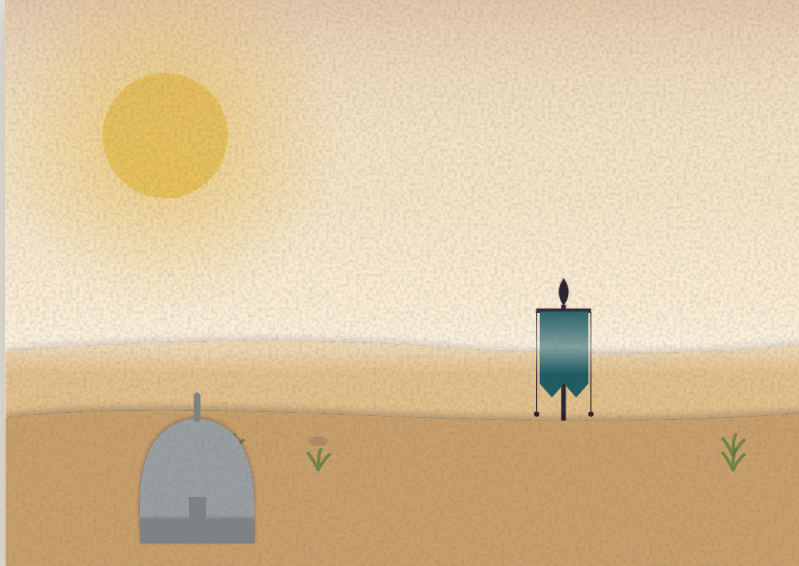

Blocked: Points to no Masoom, so the selection rule has nothing to draw on. Needs the scholar's call on whether the entry survives at all — a decision, not a source.

Back — its own chain, no silsila number

Khawla bint al-Azwar

We opened this one together.

• _____

○ _____

Post it back to us, or keep it. Either is right.

STAMP

Noor Post

[Return address — not set]
